Book Shelves In The New Library Will Be Closed

The storm of Monday gave the custodians of the City Library a breathing spell, as few persons were hardy enough to venture out unless compelled by necessity to do so. No new books have been purchased recently as the librarians have been concentrating their attention on the new catalogue, and other necessary expenses have made the funds run low. The work of cataloguing is progressing as rapidly as possible but it is slow work at the best as the catalogue is an intricate one.

The books at the City Library are in pretty good shape considering that open shelves are maintained and though some persons are exceedingly careless, for the most part the librarians report that the books are treated with great consideration. Occasionally a book is stolen, but this does not often occur, as few people are depraved enough to steal from such an institution.

Miss Edgerton, the librarian, says she does not believe these thefts are due to open shelves and does not notice any increase in the number of books stolen since the shelves were open to the public.

It is probable, however, that the shelves, except those containing fiction, will be closed to the public when the library is moved to the new building. The books will thus be kept in better condition and the bindings will remain fresh and bright for a much longer period than if they were exposed.

STIFF SENTENCE

H. E. Reifsnider, the young man who was arrested on the charge of obtaining goods from Greenwood Bros., by false pretenses was tried before Justice P.

H. Hoffman, Saturday. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $40 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the Canton workhouse. The confinement sentence was remitted on Reifsnider's promise to pay the fine and costs and fix things up satisfactorily with Greenwood Bros.

It is less dishonor to abridge petty charges, than to stoop to petty gettings. — Bacon.

Good For Rheumatism.

Last fall I was taken with a very severe attack of muscular rheumatism which caused me great pain and annoyance. After trying several prescriptions and rheumatic cures, I decided to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I had seen advertised in the South Jerseyman. After two applications of this remedy I was much better, and after using one bottle, was completely cured. — Sallie Harris, Salem, N. J. For sale by all druggists, E. A New Gavel.

Washington April 1.—Speaker Henderson called the House to order Monday with a gavel made from Philippine hardwood. It was presented to the Speaker by Amos Brandt, a citizen of Des Moines.

FAITHFUL

Cloud Has Ended His Days.

"He Knew More Than Some People" Is His Epitaph.

Cloud, the white Arabian horse which belonged to the Billow Undertaking establishment, and which for the past 20 years has drawn the funeral car, is no more. In his day Cloud was a handsome animal and nearly a quarter of a century ago cost Capt. Billow $400. He was one of the best known horses in the city, and on account of his beauty and elegant proportions was always in demand for street parades on great days.

In all the 20 years of his ownership of Cloud, Mr. Billow never had occasion to call a veterinarian for him, for he was never known to be sick a day and never missed a call. A year ago Cloud began to show signs of failure and was put on the retired list, since when he had done nothing but enjoy the good things of life reaping the reward of years of faithful service.

He was a loyal and faithful friend and was a remarkably intelligent animal. He was absolutely fearless, and could be driven directly up to a railway train. Upon coming to a railway crossing, however, if the gates were open, Cloud seemed to realize that it was his business to get across the tracks as speedily as possible and nothing could hold him until he was safe on the other side.

Said Mr. S. T. Cunningham, "That horse knew more than some people. Why if we had him out and he saw a crepe streamer on a door he would want to stop."

"On one occasion Capt. Billow had him out on a dark night and coming home the horse ran plump into an obstruction in the road, throwing Mr. Billow out. Cloud was frightened at first and ran with all his might, but, as he ran, the noble fellow thought of his master, and deeming this but surly treatment of a friend in trouble, he conquered his fear, and turning in his tracks, returned to the scene of the disaster, though trembling in every limb."

The death of Cloud was deeply felt by Mr. Billow, who had grown very fond of this faithful servant and he will be missed by many persons throughout the city, who knew and admired this sagacious animal.

Dreadful Attack of Whooping Cough

Mrs. Ellen Harrison, of 300 Park ave., Kansas City, Mo., writes as follows: "Our two children had a severe attack of whooping cough, one of them in the paroxysm of coughing would often faint and bleed at the nose. We tried everything we heard of without getting relief. We then called in our family doctor who prescribed Foley's Honey and Tar. With the very first dose they began to improve and we feel that it has saved their lives." Refuse substitutes.

HEALTH AND ALL ITS BLESSINGS

Health will come with all its blessings to those who know the way, and it is mainly a question of right-living, with all the term implies, but the efforts which strengthen the system, the games which refresh and the foods which nourish are important, each in a way, while it is also advantageous to have knowledge of the best methods of promoting freedom from unsanitary conditions. To assist nature, when nature needs assistance, it is all important that the medicinal agents used should be of the best quality and of known value, and the one remedy which acts most beneficially and pleasantly, as a laxative, is—Syrup of Figs—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

With a proper understanding of the fact that many physical ills are of a transient character and yield promptly to the gentle action of Syrup of Figs, gladness and comfort come to the heart, and if one would remove the torpor and strain and congestion attendant upon a constipated condition of the system, take Syrup of Figs and enjoy freedom from the aches and pains, the colds and headaches and the depression due to inactivity of the bowels. In case of any organic trouble it is well to consult a competent physician, but when a laxative is required remember that the most permanently gratifying results will follow personal cooperation with the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs. It is for sale by all reliable druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

The excellence of Syrup of Figs comes from the beneficial effects of the plants used in the combination and also from the method of manufacture which ensures that perfect purity and uniformity of product essential in a perfect family laxative. All the members of the family from the youngest to the most advanced in years may use it whenever a laxative is needed and share alike in its beneficial effects. We do not claim that Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of known value, but it possesses this great advantage over all other laxatives that it acts gently and pleasantly without disturbing natural functions, in any way, as it is free from every objectionable quality or substance. To get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine and the full name of the Co.—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package.
